1. Adoption of the agenda and organization of work

In its resolution 2003/61, entitled "Future programme, organization and methods of work of the Commission on Sustainable Development", the Economic and Social Council decided that, in the policy year of its two-year implementation cycle, the Commission would convene an intergovernmental preparatory meeting for one week in New York in February/March to discuss policy options and possible actions to address the constraints and obstacles in the process of implementation identified during the review year, and that the Bureau of the Commission would recommend specific organizational modalities for Commission meetings.

In accordance with rule 7 of the rules of procedure of the functional commissions of the Council, the Intergovernmental Preparatory Meeting shall, at the beginning of its meeting, adopt the agenda for its meeting on the basis of the provisional agenda.

(e) A 10-year framework of programmes on sustainable consumption and production patterns

In its resolution 2003/61, the Economic and Social Council also decided that the discussions of the Intergovernmental Preparatory Meeting would be based on the outcome of the Commission's review session, reports by the Secretary-General and other relevant inputs. On the basis of those discussions, the Chair will prepare a draft negotiating document for consideration at the Commission's policy session.

Accordingly, the Bureau of the nineteenth session of the Commission, through consultations with member States, decided that the Meeting would focus on the discussions of policy options and possible actions to expedite implementation in the thematic cluster of transport, chemicals, waste management, mining and a 10-year framework of programmes on sustainable consumption and production patterns.
